Q: Postgres - how to filter and return all of the matched items from a textbox In Postgres 9.4, I'm trying to return all of the matched items from a textbox. The field name is role_text in postgres database. So, i created a filter on the table: "role" ~* "'.'" and assigned it to the query: WHERE (role_text) ~ "'.*'" This returns an empty set. When i use the same query on the textbox, it returns all of the values in the textbox. How can i construct a query to filter and return all of the matched items from a textbox in postgres? I'm new to SQL.

A: But don't you want an exact match? (not a string comparison)

```
SELECT * FROM tab1 WHERE col1 = 'foo' AND col2 = 'bar' AND col3 = 'baz 3e33713323'
